

Doug Warner is experienced in all phases of talent representation and content packaging. Mr. Warner began his career in the mailroom of APA and succeeded to VP of Motion Pictures and Television before establishing Warner Artist Management. Representation of talent includes celebrities and actors, writers, and directors.

Mr. Warner successfully packaged and produced projects for major networks and streamers. An early leader and curator in content packaging and distribution for the emerging Latin market, which resulted in the groundbreaking "The Original Latin Kings Of Comedy" for Paramount. Consulted on entertainment real estate studio production for Hudson Pacific Properties and independent studio operators. Mr. Warner is also an Executive board member of the Pepperdine University Institute for Entertainment, Media, and Sports.

Mr. Warner conducts Graziadio's class on the profession of talent representation during the summer semester. Mr. Warner also participates on several charitable boards and is President of Warner Artist Management.