Why Pepperdine?

ON YOUR TIME
Choose between full- and part-time course options tailored to your busy schedule.

IN GOOD COMPANY
We’re fully aligned with the SHRM HR Curriculum Guidebook and Templates.

STRATEGIC LEAD
Classes are taught from the respective business disciplines as opposed to HR applied to business.

VALUES FIRST
We champion value-centered leadership built around kindness and purpose.

MOVE TO THE BEAT OF YOUR LEARNING STYLE
AND FLOURISH IN YOUR EDUCATION WITH:

SMALL CLASSES
No back row students, only leaders in the making. Gain business insights and build connections with fellow HR vanguards in a safe space.

“The small classes, and the collaboration where everyone knows everyone, that’s a big advantage and something that is very rare.”
Florian, Graziadio alumnus

HANDS-ON LEARNING
Bridge the gap between academia and business by solving real-life business challenges through an experiential learning style rated top 10 in the nation.

PROFESSORS WHO KNOW YOUR NAME
One-on-one access to world-renowned professors—leaders who champion human resources as an integral part of business.

“Teachers truly care about us and they’re here because they love what they do, which is teaching us and helping us become a part of the real world.”
Jordann, Graziadio alumnus

36,000 ALUMNI AND COUNTING
Broaden your reach through the Graziadio network, one of the largest communities of any graduate school on the west coast.

THE HEARTBEAT OF BUSINESS
Get a grasp on the most valuable asset to any organization—its people. You’ll learn to apply behavioral science to management issues, embrace diversity as an organizational strategy, and harness your company’s talent as a competitive advantage.

THE LIFELOOD OF AN ORGANIZATION
Contemporary organizations exist in social, political, and economic environments that change rapidly and unpredictably. Meet change head on and learn how to resolve conflict, motivate your employees, and increase effectiveness in your organization.

AT THE CORE
Dive deep into business management through the study of employment law, economic reasoning and decision-making, and financial accounting. You’ll also get hands-on experience with digital technologies to enhance your workflow.

LEADING TOMORROW’S GROWTH
Solidify your spot among management and gain a better understanding of how to apply key strategies and data to effect growth. You’ll also learn the ethics behind true leadership to implement enduring, values-centered impact.

HANDS-ON LEARNING
No matter which track you choose, you will dive into four foundations of HR as a strategic business leader:

CLASSES AROUND YOUR SCHEDULE
Choose between two tracks built around your busy lifestyle. Whether you’re fully employed or plan to enroll as a full-time student, we have the program for you.
To enroll in the MSHR program at Pepperdine, you must have:

• An undergraduate degree with an acceptable grade point average from a regionally accredited four-year college or university
• An essay describing your interest, motivation and background in HR
• An interview may be requested, upon review of admissions materials

The Pepperdine Graziadio Business School Master of Science in Human Resources was created for future leaders—not back row students. If you’re ready to make waves as a strategic business partner, we’re ready for you.
